

Poster Listing - Wednesday

| Presenter                 | Organisation                                             | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Theme                                   | Poster Board |               |
|---------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|---------------|
| Antoinette Abou Haidar    | The Metrohealth System                                   | A collaborative initiative for hepatitis C treatment in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, USA                                                                                                                           | Models of Care and Programs             | 1            |               |
| Muhammad Radzi Abu Hassan | Ministry Of Health, Malaysia                             | When research and development meets public health: how Malaysia expanded hepatitis C treatment without increasing public expenditure                                                                         | Clinical Research                       | 2            |               |
| Fauziyya Abubakar         | DAPHO                                                    | Retention and attrition in a low dead space syringe and needles (LDSS/N) values and preference (cohort study) distribution among people who inject drugs in Nigeria                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 3            |               |
| Charles Henderson         | Burnet Institute                                         | It's your right: empowering people who use drugs to prevent, test & treat on their own terms                                                                                                                 | Models of Care and Programs             | 4            | Poster Tour 1 |
| Fauziyya Abubakar         | DAPHO                                                    | Assessing depression and perceived stigma among people who inject drugs receiving hepatitis C treatment in Gombe State, Nigeria.                                                                             | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 5            |               |
| Fauziyya Abubakar         | DAPHO                                                    | Addressing barriers to testing and treatment among people who inject drugs (PWID) through a community-led one-stop harm reduction and HCV care model in Gombe State, Nigeria.                                | Clinical Research                       | 6            |               |
| Gyde Steffen              | Robert Koch Institute                                    | Challenges in ACCESS to hepatitis C care for people who inject drugs in Germany - results from the DRUCK-SURV study 2025                                                                                     | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 7            | Poster Tour 1 |
| Monica Adams              | CDC                                                      | Infectious disease service provision by syringe services programs in the United States, 2024                                                                                                                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 8            |               |
| Fauziyya Abubakar         | DAPHO                                                    | Safety and safeguarding measures in community-based harm reduction: a community-led model for hepatitis services for delivery by DAPHO in Gombe State, Nigeria.                                              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 9            |               |
| Fauziyya Abubakar         | DAPHO                                                    | Assessing treatment eligibility within a community-based hepatitis C model of care: a case study of the hepatitis C virus innovate, INSPIRE, involve(HCV-III) project in Gombe State Nigeria.                | Clinical Research                       | 10           |               |
| Amrit Ahluwalia           | University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine              | Application of implementation mapping to develop multi-level strategies for integrating the HIV PrEP and needle prescribing into outpatient addiction clinics                                                | Clinical Research                       | 11           |               |
| Aniedi Akpan              | Drug Free And Prevention Healthcare Organisation (DAPHO) | Local injecting practices and injecting equipment preferences for low dead space syringes and needles among people who inject drugs in Gombe State, Nigeria                                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 12           |               |
| Aniedi Akpan              | Drug Free And Prevention Healthcare Organisation (DAPHO) | Building government/community-led partnership for the implementation of the community-based simplified algorithm for hepatitis C testing and treatment among people who inject drugs in Gombe State, Nigeria | Social Science & Policy Research        | 13           |               |
| Asem Jiten Singh          | Médecins Du Monde                                        | Transforming hepatitis C care for people who inject drugs in Tanzania through rapid testing and immediate treatment: preliminary clinical effectiveness data from cutts HepC                                 | Clinical Research                       | 14           | Poster Tour 1 |
| Aniedi Akpan              | Drug Free And Prevention Healthcare Organisation (DAPHO) | The hidden suffering: pain, social isolation and stigma from chronic injecting wounds among people who inject drugs (PWID) in Gombe, Nigeria                                                                 | Clinical Research                       | 15           |               |

Poster Listing - Wednesday

| Presenter                   | Organisation                                                                                    | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Theme                                   | Poster Board            |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|-------------------------|
| Raghda Algamil              | Ministry of Health- General Secretariat of Mental Health and Addiction. , Egypt                 | Overview of the opioid agonist treatment (OAT) program in Egypt: progress within the UNAIDS project - LADB study                                                                                                          | Models of Care and Programs             | 16                      |
| Raghda Algamil              | Ministry of Health- General Secretariat of Mental Health and Addiction. , Egypt                 | Breaking new ground in opioid agonist treatment in LMICs : early outcomes, lessons, and insights from Egypt's first experience with long-acting depot buprenorphine (LADB) for PWID.                                      | Clinical Research                       | 17                      |
| Ria Al-Halabiová            | SANANIM                                                                                         | Methylphenidate-assisted treatment as an effective harm reduction intervention for people with high-risk methamphetamine use                                                                                              | Models of Care and Programs             | 18                      |
| Sean Allen                  | Johns Hopkins University                                                                        | hepatitis C burden, care gaps, and ongoing risk among rural people who inject drugs during an HIV outbreak in West Virginia (United States)                                                                               | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 19                      |
| Harsh Jitendrakumar Amipara | Gujarat National Law University                                                                 | Legal architecture in conflict: reconciling the Mental Healthcare Act 2017, the NDPS Act 1985 and the National Viral Hepatitis Control Programme in delivering HCV care to people who use drugs in India                  | Social Science & Policy Research        | 20                      |
| Harsh Jitendrakumar Amipara | Gujarat National Law University                                                                 | Elimination without rights is elimination in name only: applying international human rights law to the criminalisation of people who inject drugs in high-burden HCV settings                                             | Social Science & Policy Research        | 21                      |
| Eunice Ankrah               | Frontline AIDS                                                                                  | LDSS/N retrieval and community clean-up initiatives as an environmental safety strategy in drug use hotspots in Gombe State, Nigeria                                                                                      | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 22                      |
| Eunice Ankrah               | Frontline AIDS                                                                                  | Assessing the effectiveness of a community-based needle and syringe distribution model: a case study of the HCV III LDSS/N project in Gombe State, Nigeria                                                                | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 23                      |
| Joseph Teryima Ashivor      | Society For Family Health                                                                       | Predictors of treatment uptake of medication-assisted treatment services among persons who inject drugs (PWIDs) and persons who use drugs (PWUDs) in Nigeria                                                              | Models of Care and Programs             | 24                      |
| Joseph Teryima Ashivor      | Society For Family Health                                                                       | Prevalence of viral hepatitis B and C among persons who inject drugs and persons who use drugs: a retrospective study of persons with opioid use disorder enrolled in medication treatment in Gombe, Northeastern Nigeria | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 25                      |
| Adelina Arteni              | University of Montreal                                                                          | Long-term trends in all-cause and cause-specific mortality among people who inject drugs in Montreal, Canada (1992-2019)                                                                                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 26 Poster Tour 2 |
| William Leigh Atherton      | East Carolina University - Addictions & Rehabilitation Studies                                  | Evaluation of peer versus professional SBIRT intervention on engagement of minority populations at high risk for HIV/AIDS and substance use disorders                                                                     | Clinical Research                       | 27                      |
| Nina Auestad                | Oslo University Hospital                                                                        | Using PETH and AUDIT-4 to detect harmful alcohol use among people with severe substance use                                                                                                                               | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 28                      |
| Øystein Backe               | Agency For Social And Welfare Services, City Of Oslo, Norway                                    | The HCV care Cascade among people who inject drugs in a mobile, nurse-led low-threshold clinic in Norway                                                                                                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 29                      |
| Zuzana Svobodová            | Charles University, Faculty Of Pharmacy In Hradec Kralove, Dep. Biological And Medical Sciences | Injecting extracts from fentanyl patches: harm reduction insights from a mixed-methods study                                                                                                                              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 30 Poster Tour 2 |

Poster Listing - Wednesday

| Presenter         | Organisation                                                                  | Paper Title                                                                                                                                           | Theme                                   | Poster Board |               |
|-------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|---------------|
| Kari Bail         | Duke University                                                               | Risk environments and hepatitis C among rural women who use drugs in the United States: a scoping review                                              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 31           |               |
| Sofia Bartlett    | BC Centre for Disease Control                                                 | Factors associated with recent testing for HIV, hepatitis C virus, and syphilis among harm reduction clients in British Columbia, 2023                | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 32           |               |
| Kelsey Bates      | Harm Reduction Ohio                                                           | Decentralizing survival: a peer-led model for mass naloxone distribution via lay networks and mail-order systems in Ohio, USA                         | Models of Care and Programs             | 33           |               |
| Adelina Artenie   | University of Montreal                                                        | Modelling the health impacts of introducing an overdose prevention Centre in two illustrative UK settings                                             | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 34           | Poster Tour 2 |
| Saket Priyadarshi | NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde                                                 | The thistle - UK's first sanctioned drug consumption room                                                                                             | Models of Care and Programs             | 35           | Poster Tour 2 |
| Myriam Beaulieu   | Montreal University                                                           | A strength-oriented perspective on recovery in persistent substance use disorders: a qualitative study of lived experiences                           | Social Science & Policy Research        | 36           |               |
| Vicki Beere       | University of Manchester                                                      | We are fearless women: examining the impact of new public management on women's access to harm reduction services in England.                         | Social Science & Policy Research        | 37           |               |
| Patricia Belo     | Ares Do Pinhal   National School of Public Health - Nova University of Lisbon | Overdose episodes in a supervised consumption program: profiles, clinical severity and interventions over five years                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 38           |               |
| Francis Benedict  | Temeke Regional Referral Hospital                                             | Needle and syringe services among heroin injectors in Dar es Salaam region, Tanzania                                                                  | Models of Care and Programs             | 39           |               |
| Justin Berk       | Brown University Health / Center For Health And Justice Transformation        | MINMON-J: preliminary outcomes of a low-barrier hepatitis C treatment model in a US jail setting                                                      | Clinical Research                       | 40           |               |
| Urvisha Bhoora    | University Of Pretoria                                                        | Knowledge and experiences of overdose among formerly incarcerated people living with HIV and opioid use disorder in South Africa: a qualitative study | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 41           |               |
| Urvisha Bhoora    | University Of Pretoria                                                        | High burden of HCV/HIV coinfection and low prevalence of HBV infection among PWUD/PWID accessing harm reduction services in Tshwane, South Africa     | Clinical Research                       | 42           |               |
| Renke Biallas     | Robert Koch Institute                                                         | High levels of experienced and expected discrimination in healthcare settings among people who inject drugs in Germany, DRUCK-SURV study 2025         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 43           |               |
| Brooke Nolan      | INHSU                                                                         | The ethical storytelling roadmap: embedding safer storytelling into HIV, HCV and drug user health advocacy                                            | Models of Care and Programs             | 44           | Poster Tour 3 |
| Magdalena Harris  | London School Of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine                                  | Co-producing a cultural safety framework to improve hospital care for people who use opioids: insights from the iHOST study                           | Social Science & Policy Research        | 45           | Poster Tour 3 |

Poster Listing - Wednesday

| Presenter               | Organisation                                                                          | Paper Title                                                                                                                                           | Theme                                   | Poster Board |               |
|-------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|---------------|
| Magdalena Harris        | London School Of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine                                          | The power of peers: privileged ACCESS facilitating recruitment among people who use crack cocaine in England                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 46           |               |
| Magdalena Harris        | London School Of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine                                          | Implementing iHOST: experiences of a multi-component intervention in a london hospital to improve hospital care for people receiving OST              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 47           |               |
| Magdalena Harris        | London School Of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine                                          | Crack pipe uptake, acceptability and adaptation: intervention findings informing safer stimulant inhalation equipment design in the UK                | Social Science & Policy Research        | 48           |               |
| Mohd Azri Bin Mohd Suan | Clinical Research Center, Institute For Clinical Research, Hospital Sultanah Bahiyah. | A comparative attrition analysis of two HCV models of care in Northern Malaysian prisons                                                              | Social Science & Policy Research        | 49           |               |
| Mohd Azri Bin Mohd Suan | Clinical Research Center, Institute For Clinical Research, Hospital Sultanah Bahiyah. | Unlocking the gates: leveraging religious authority to uncover high hepatitis C burden in private Islamic rehabilitation centres in Northern Malaysia | Social Science & Policy Research        | 50           |               |
| Mia Biondi              | York University                                                                       | Community advisory consultations to inform a controlled human infection model for HCV: a qualitative document analysis                                | Social Science & Policy Research        | 51           |               |
| Louis-Philippe Bleau    | University Of Montreal                                                                | Correctional officers' perceptions of harm reduction services in prisons: implications for hepatitis C prevention and global prison health            | Social Science & Policy Research        | 52           |               |
| Chelsea Cook            | Manitoba Harm Reduction Network Inc                                                   | Overcoming systemic barriers to deliver hepatitis C treatment in rural Manitoba: an Indigenous and community-led model of care                        | Social Science & Policy Research        | 53           |               |
| Chelsea Cook            | Manitoba Harm Reduction Network Inc                                                   | First-time pharmacy engagement for direct-acting antiviral dispensing in community-based hepatitis C care: a rural Manitoba model                     | Social Science & Policy Research        | 54           | Poster Tour 1 |
| Grace Burton-McKeich    | Unsw / The Kirby Institute                                                            | Who defines good care? Comparing clinicians' and clients' perspectives on the management of perinatal hepatitis C using care ethics                   | Social Science & Policy Research        | 55           | Poster Tour 1 |
| Isabelle Boisvert       | Centre De Recherche Du Chum, CRISM Quebec Node                                        | Expressing the invisible: the art of speaking out – a peer-led, arts-based engagement model by and for people who use drugs (PWUD)                    | Models of Care and Programs             | 56           |               |
| Isabelle Boisvert       | Centre De Recherche Du Chum, CRISM Quebec Node                                        | A community guide to ethical research partnerships for substance use, hepatitis, and harm reduction                                                   | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 57           |               |
| Kindness Bondezi        | Storr Liver Centre, Westmead Hospital                                                 | Declining hepatitis C screening and prevalence at an opioid substitution therapy pharmacy outreach program, 2020–2025                                 | Models of Care and Programs             | 58           |               |
| Matthew Bonn            | ChangeMark Research & Evaluation                                                      | Policing interactions and outcomes under shifting decriminalization policies in British Columbia: insights from people who use drugs                  | Social Science & Policy Research        | 59           |               |
| Andrea Bregenzer        | Cantonal Hospital Aarau                                                               | HCV primary and reinfections 2017 onwards in the Swiss Association for the Medical Management in Substance Users (SAMMSU) cohort                      | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 60           |               |

Poster Listing - Wednesday

| Presenter             | Organisation                                      | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                             | Theme                                   | Poster Board |               |
|-----------------------|---------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|---------------|
| Ailish Brennan        | Harm Reduction International                      | Progress under pressure: hepatitis services for people who use drugs amid a shifting funding and policy landscape                                                                                       | Social Science & Policy Research        | 61           |               |
| Ailish Brennan        | Harm Reduction International                      | Not just needles: mapping HIV and HCV prevention gaps for people who use stimulants without injecting                                                                                                   | Social Science & Policy Research        | 62           |               |
| Ailish Brennan        | Harm Reduction International                      | Integrating harm reduction, STIs, and HIV prevention for gay, bisexual, and other men who have sex with men (GBMSM) engaging in chemsex: a qualitative human rights-based policy and evidence synthesis | Social Science & Policy Research        | 63           |               |
| Gurneet Gill          | St. Boniface Hospital                             | Integrating harm reduction into acute care: a Canadian hospital's experience                                                                                                                            | Models of Care and Programs             | 64           | Poster Tour 3 |
| Leah Higgins          | Rodger Wright Harm Reduction Network              | "Filling the gaps" - the evolution of a harm reduction nurse- and peer-led clinic in New Zealand                                                                                                        | Models of Care and Programs             | 65           | Poster Tour 3 |
| Leah Higgins          | Rodger Wright Harm Reduction Network              | A peer-led kaupapa māori hepatitis C rapid testing initiative highlights relatively low seroprevalence in an aotearoa New Zealand prison                                                                | Social Science & Policy Research        | 66           |               |
| Ailish Brennan        | Harm Reduction International                      | The rise of nitazenes and overdose prevention                                                                                                                                                           | Social Science & Policy Research        | 67           |               |
| Thomas Brothers       | Dalhousie University                              | Implementation of hospital-based supervised consumption services: scoping review, key informant interviews, and initial programme theory                                                                | Clinical Research                       | 68           |               |
| Nathalie Brunner      | Swiss Hepatitis                                   | A bottom-up strategy for improving blood-borne infection management in a highly diverse national prison system: the Swiss HepFree in Prisons Programme (SHIPP)                                          | Social Science & Policy Research        | 69           |               |
| Julie Byrne-King      | Peer Based Harm Reduction WA                      | A collaborative nurse and peer-led model for delivery of point-of-care testing and treatment for hepatitis C infection in Western Australia                                                             | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 70           |               |
| Julie Byrne-King      | Peer Based Harm Reduction WA                      | Relocating the clinician: decentring authority in viral hepatitis care                                                                                                                                  | Social Science & Policy Research        | 71           |               |
| Camelia Capraru       | VIRCAN/Toronto Centre For Liver Diseases          | INSPIRE: interventions for screening and treatment of psychiatric inpatients with HCV resulting in elimination – provider acceptability survey                                                          | Clinical Research                       | 72           |               |
| Teresa Castro         | Youth RISE / Kosmicare                            | Can harm reduction get old? Participatory insights on the present and future of harm reduction in nightlife settings                                                                                    | Social Science & Policy Research        | 73           |               |
| Erika Castro Batánjer | HepC Mobile Virtual Clinique and Medical Practice | HepC mobile & virtual clinic: surveillance and treatment outcomes of viral hepatitis and HIV infections among key populations living in Canton Vaud, Switzerland                                        | Models of Care and Programs             | 74           |               |
| Mohammad Karamouzian  | University of Toronto                             | Investigating the spatial association between supervised consumption services and homicide rates in toronto, Canada, 2010–2023: an ecological analysis                                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 75           | Poster Tour 2 |

Poster Listing - Wednesday

| Presenter                | Organisation                                       | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                   | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|--------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Mohammad Karamouzian     | University of Toronto                              | HIV prevalence and related factors among female sex workers in Iran                                                                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 76           |
| Mohammad Karamouzian     | University of Toronto                              | HIV prevalence, risk behaviors, and Cascade of care among men who have sex with men in Iran: findings from the first nationwide bio-behavioral survey                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 77           |
| Philip Chan              | Brown University                                   | Addressing the opioid epidemic in Rhode Island, USA                                                                                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 78           |
| Kendal Chidwick          | NDARC, UNSW                                        | Examining features of service provision that aim to improve outcomes of treatment for opioid use disorder: systematic review and metaanalysis                                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 79           |
| Ugochinyere Chikere      | Institute Of Human Virology, Nigeria               | Treatment discontinuation among clients enrolled in a medication-assisted treatment (MAT) programme: findings from Gombe State, Nigeria                                       | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 80           |
| Ugochinyere Chikere      | Institute Of Human Virology, Nigeria               | Implementing medication-assisted treatment in a resource-limited setting: programme outcomes, substance use patterns, and infectious disease burden from Gombe State, Nigeria | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 81           |
| Elizabeth Paulo Chitesya | Tanzania Network For People Who Use Drugs (tanpud) | “Behind closed doors: addressing ipv as a barrier to HIV prevention and treatment for women who inject drugs in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania”                                      | Models of Care and Programs             | 82           |
| Heejin Choi              | University of Minnesota                            | Optimizing geographic naloxone distribution: a simulation-based, metamodel-assisted approach                                                                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 83           |
| Aleta Christensen        | US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention      | Impact of providing sustained support to syringe services programs in the United States                                                                                       | Models of Care and Programs             | 84           |
| Amy Chu                  | Western Sydney LHD                                 | Connecting community corrections clients to hepatitis C cure                                                                                                                  | Models of Care and Programs             | 85           |
| Amy Chu                  | Western Sydney LHD                                 | Improving access to hepatitis C screening, treatment and management for transient and vulnerable population by community outreach hepatology nurses                           | Models of Care and Programs             | 86           |
| Daren Claxton            | The Hepatitis C Trust                              | Hep C Trust prison peers facilitating reception BBV screening and supporting hepatitis C elimination                                                                          | Models of Care and Programs             | 87           |
| Daren Claxton            | The Hepatitis C Trust                              | Building self-efficacy in PWID through education with a trauma informed approach                                                                                              | Models of Care and Programs             | 88           |
| Emmanuel Clement         | National Agency For The Control Of AIDS            | Understanding the prevalence and risk factors of hepatitis B and C among people who inject drugs in owerri, Nigeria                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 89           |
| Brian Conway             | Vancouver Infectious Diseases Centre               | Tracking of HCV viremia rates in Vancouver, Canada's inner-city reveals consistent and sustained decreases over time                                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 90           |

Poster Listing - Wednesday

| Presenter                  | Organisation                                     | Paper Title                                                                                                                                               | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|----------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Brian Conway               | Vancouver Infectious Diseases Centre             | Characteristics of individuals with HCV exposure: insights from 10 years of hepatitis C testing in Vancouver, Canada's inner-city                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 91           |
| Brian Conway               | Vancouver Infectious Diseases Centre             | Strategies for reducing HCV time to cure and loss to follow up: Lessons from Vancouver, Canada                                                            | Models of Care and Programs             | 92           |
| Ernesto Cortes             | ACEID                                            | Full spectrum harm reduction: community-based models of care in Latin America                                                                             | Models of Care and Programs             | 93           |
| Aishah Coyte               | NHS                                              | Peer-delivered, picture based, safe injecting educational tool delivered in North-East England.                                                           | Clinical Research                       | 94           |
| Tommy Cree & Norma Howarth | The Hepatitis C Trust & Change Grow Live         | Close collaboration between intersectional services optimises outcomes for individuals                                                                    | Social Science & Policy Research        | 95           |
| Olivia Dawson              | INHSU                                            | Addressing barriers to hepatitis C scale-up in the United States – the INHSU HCV intervention symposium series                                            | Models of Care and Programs             | 96           |
| Olivia Dawson              | INHSU                                            | Strengthening political will and systems for harm reduction scale-up in Africa: insights from the 2025 INHSU policy day                                   | Social Science & Policy Research        | 97           |
| Yana Deineka               | Charitable Found Network of People who use Drugs | Integrating routine community-led monitoring of people who use drugs to assess the accessibility of harm reduction services                               | Models of Care and Programs             | 98           |
| Ronit Deshpande            | University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine      | Using photovoice to illuminate barriers in xylazine-induced wound care among unhoused patients                                                            | Social Science & Policy Research        | 99           |
| Paul Dietze                | Burnet Institute                                 | The relationship between opioid agonist therapy and reduced injecting frequency amongst people who inject drugs: evidence from a prospective cohort study | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 100          |
| Sarah Donaldson            | University Of Dundee                             | Long-acting injectable buprenorphine and non-fatal overdose risk in Tayside, Scotland: a pilot cohort study                                               | Clinical Research                       | 101          |
| Marie Dos Santos           | Sesstim                                          | “What are you looking for, alone? The answer to the universe—why there is something instead of nothing.”                                                  | Social Science & Policy Research        | 102          |
| Joseph Doyle               | Monash University                                | Interim outcomes of a tiered hepatitis C education and training program for community pharmacists                                                         | Models of Care and Programs             | 103          |
| Joseph Doyle               | Monash University                                | Community pharmacy-based models of care for hepatitis C testing and linkage to care: interim results from a national cohort study                         | Models of Care and Programs             | 104          |
| Michael Doyle              | University Of Sydney                             | Navigating systems: Aboriginal peoples' experiences of attending alcohol and other drug treatment in inner-city Sydney                                    | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 105          |

| Presenter                    | Organisation                                  | Paper Title                                                                                                                                          | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Steven Drew                  | Hepatitis NSW Incorporated                    | Answering the call: empowering people in custody to access timely hepatitis C care through a patient-initiated, peer-led referral system             | Models of Care and Programs             | 106          |
| Katherine Dunham             | Brown University School Of Public Health      | Exploring shifting socio-spatial patterns among clients of an overdose prevention center in the United States: a qualitative study                   | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 107          |
| Adrian Dunlop                | Drug & Alcohol Clinical Services, HNE Health  | Financial incentives for HCV testing and treatment – a pilot study                                                                                   | Clinical Research                       | 108          |
| Adrian Dunlop                | Drug & Alcohol Clinical Services, HNE Health  | Barriers and enablers to providing long-acting injectable buprenorphine treatment to people recently released from prison                            | Clinical Research                       | 109          |
| Kate Dunn                    | York University                               | Conversations are two-way: Indigenous perspectives on research                                                                                       | Social Science & Policy Research        | 110          |
| Megana Dwarakanath           | Upmc                                          | Building the airplane while flying it: creating a care network for adolescent and young adult people who use drugs (AYA PWUD)                        | Social Science & Policy Research        | 111          |
| Lisa Eaton                   | University Of Connecticut                     | The association between internalized drug use stigma and accessing harm reduction services among men who have sex with men with recent substance use | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 112          |
| Ciara Eizadirad              | York University                               | “She stayed past when she was supposed to leave:” relational and wholistic HCV care for First Nations peoples and the structures that prevent it     | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 113          |
| Scott Elliott                | Dr Peter Centre                               | Integrated care for stigmatized, complex populations: a Canadian success story                                                                       | Models of Care and Programs             | 114          |
| Kingsley Onyekwere Essomeonu | National Agency for the Control Of AIDS, NACA | Mental trauma, post-traumatic stress disorder and their influence on substance use among female sex workers in Nigeria                               | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 115          |
| Kingsley Onyekwere Essomeonu | National Agency for the Control Of AIDS, NACA | The “invisible minority”: health risks and barriers to care among adolescent people who inject drugs (APWID) in Abuja, Nigeria                       | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 116          |
| Sandy Ezepue                 | Hamilton Urban Core Community Health Centre   | The impact of a local consumption and treatment service program on population health outcomes.                                                       | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 117          |
| Sandy Ezepue                 | Hamilton Urban Core Community Health Centre   | An online stigma reduction education program for healthcare workers working with people who inject drugs: development & pilot testing                | Models of Care and Programs             | 118          |
| Shelley Facente              | Facente Consulting                            | Differing perspectives of providers and patients about buprenorphine-related precipitated withdrawal in the era of fentanyl                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 119          |
| Nadia Fairbairn              | University Of British Columbia                | The impact of public health overdose outreach services on health care utilization and outcomes among people with prior overdose in Vancouver, Canada | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 120          |

Poster Listing - Wednesday

| Presenter             | Organisation                                     | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                      | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|-----------------------|--------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Nadia Fairbairn       | University Of British Columbia                   | Prescribed pharmaceutical alternatives to the toxic drug supply in hospital settings and associated premature discharge, hospital readmission and mortality      | Clinical Research                       | 121          |
| Amanda Fallin-bennett | University Of Kentucky College Of Nursing        | Translating syringe residue checking results into actionable harm reduction messaging: a community engaged approach                                              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 122          |
| Imen Farhat           | McGill University                                | Impact of primary care on the successful induction of opioid agonist treatment among patients with opioid use disorder                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 123          |
| Hugo Faria            | Ares do Pinhal                                   | Standardising mobile liver health services to accelerate viral hepatitis elimination in underserved populations across Europe                                    | Models of Care and Programs             | 124          |
| Judith Feinberg, MD   | West Virginia University School of Medicine      | Expanding the 'amplify' model: a rural mentorship approach to managing the chronic infections associated with injection drug use in Appalachia                   | Models of Care and Programs             | 125          |
| Joshua Folorunsho     | SFH Nigeria                                      | Community perceptions of long-acting depot buprenorphine in Nigeria's emerging opioid agonist maintenance treatment programme                                    | Social Science & Policy Research        | 126          |
| Sona Frankova         | Institute For Clinical And Experimental Medicine | Early diagnosis of HCV in people who inject drugs in the Czech Republic: results of a pilot project                                                              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 127          |
| Anette Fredriksen     | Frelsesarmeens Gatehospital Oslo                 | Self-reported skin and soft tissue infection among people who inject drugs: annual cumulative incidence and risk factors                                         | Clinical Research                       | 128          |
| Tatjana Reic          | Croatian Society For Liver Diseases "hepatos"    | Breaking barriers to care for incarcerated people who use drugs: mobile linkage-to-care model for HCV microelimination in Croatian prisons                       | Models of Care and Programs             | 129          |
| Olivia Studnicki      | University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine      | Clinic-based harm reduction for people who inject drugs: exploring barriers and facilitators of accessing prescription syringes and HIV pre-exposure prophylaxis | Clinical Research                       | 130          |
| Kathleen Ward         | Columbia University                              | Sexual assault is associated with non-viral STI diagnosis among women who inject drugs initiating PrEP                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 131          |

Poster Listing - Thursday

| Presenter                 | Organisation                                          | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|---------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Guillaume Fontaine        | McGill University                                     | Clinical outcomes of direct-acting antiviral hepatitis C virus treatment initiated during pregnancy: a systematic review and Meta-analysis                                                                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 1            |
| Guillaume Fontaine        | McGill University                                     | Regulatory, quality assurance (QA), and information system factors for scaling up point-of-care hepatitis C virus RNA testing in Canada: insights from interviews with laboratory and key stakeholders                      | Social Science & Policy Research        | 2            |
| Guillaume Fontaine        | McGill University                                     | What will it take to scale up point-of-care hepatitis C virus testing in Canada? Insights from interviews with provincial and national decision-makers                                                                      | Social Science & Policy Research        | 3            |
| Lakshmi Ganapathi         | Massachusetts General Hospital/Harvard Medical School | Knowledge of opioid use disorder and medications for opioid use disorder among young people who inject drugs and providers in Mizoram, India                                                                                | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 4            |
| Lakshmi Ganapathi         | Massachusetts General Hospital/Harvard Medical School | Co-designing peer-delivered psychoeducation to support substance use treatment engagement and HIV prevention among young people who inject drugs in Mizoram, India                                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 5            |
| Lakshmi Ganapathi         | Massachusetts General Hospital/Harvard Medical School | Yuva sath (youth together): adapting a problem-solving intervention to address variable barriers to engagement in substance use treatment and HIV prevention services among young people who inject drugs in Mizoram, India | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 6            |
| Serena Garbolino          | Sesstim, INSERM, IRD, AMU                             | What discarded blisters reveal: a qualitative study of non-prescribed pregabalin use and harm reduction among migrant people experiencing precariousness in marseille                                                       | Social Science & Policy Research        | 7            |
| Alejandra Garcia De Loera | Autonomous University of Aguascalientes               | Detection of fentanyl in stimulants and harm reduction in mexican cities: results from a pilot intervention in Aguascalientes                                                                                               | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 8            |
| Alejandra Garcia De Loera | Autonomous University of Aguascalientes               | Beyond the border: phenomenological perspectives on opioid and opiate use in Central and Western Mexico                                                                                                                     | Social Science & Policy Research        | 9            |
| Becky Genberg             | Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health       | Emerging methamphetamine and shifting patterns of injection drug use over two decades among people who inject drugs in baltimore, Maryland USA                                                                              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 10           |
| Jason George              | Rodger Wright Harm Reduction Network                  | Harm reduction and 'new recovery': unintended consequences of a policy shift on an aotearoa New Zealand needle exchange service                                                                                             | Social Science & Policy Research        | 11           |
| Danielle German           | Johns Hopkins                                         | Navigating an uncertain drug supply: patient-provider and provider peer communication about supply toxicity                                                                                                                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 12           |
| Danielle German           | Johns Hopkins                                         | Nonfatal overdose frequency and cognitive disability among people who inject drugs in baltimore, Maryland, USA                                                                                                              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 13           |
| Danielle German           | Johns Hopkins                                         | U.S. National trends in xylazine detection, concentration using urine drug tests, 2023-2025                                                                                                                                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 14           |
| Megan Glancy              | Glasgow Caledonian University/Public Health Scotland  | Drug-related death rates associated with prescribed and illicit benzodiazepine exposure among people receiving opioid-agonist treatment in Scotland, 2011 to 2020                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 15           |

Poster Listing - Thursday

| Presenter                  | Organisation                                          | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                         | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Louisa Glaum               | Aidshilfe Schleswig-Holstein                          | Hidden numbers brought to light: creating transparency; test and treatment of people and communities facing barriers in rural areas in Northern Germany             | Models of Care and Programs             | 16           |
| Jennifer Glick             | LSU Health New Orleans                                | Intersectional substance use disparities among transgender women and transfeminine persons in the United States                                                     | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 17           |
| Jennifer Glick             | LSU Health New Orleans                                | Racial/ethnic and sexual orientation differences in recent substance use among rural cisgender sexual minority women in the United States: a preliminary analysis   | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 18           |
| Daniela Goeieman           | PSI                                                   | "You just go home, live your life": qualitative insights into early experiences of long-acting depot buprenorphine initiation in Johannesburg, South Africa         | Social Science & Policy Research        | 19           |
| Jacqueline Goldman         | Brown University School Of Public Health              | Evaluation of changes in neighborhood disorder following the opening of an overdose prevention center in a small urban setting in the United States                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 20           |
| Jesse Goldshear            | University Of California San Diego                    | Living and dying in tent city: emerging reports of substance use behaviors among residents of a government-run open air shelter in Southern California              | Social Science & Policy Research        | 21           |
| José Luis González Sanchez | Gilead Sciences, Spain                                | Clinical burden, hospitalization, and mortality in HCV RNA-positive patients identified through opportunistic emergency department screening                        | Clinical Research                       | 22           |
| José Luis González Sanchez | Gilead Sciences, Spain                                | Clinical, biochemical and fibrosis profiles of HCV infections detected through opportunistic screening in an emergency department                                   | Clinical Research                       | 23           |
| Marea Gordon               | University of California San Diego School of Medicine | Missed opportunities for hepatitis a vaccination among people who use drugs in San Diego county, USA                                                                | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 24           |
| Ravi Goyal                 | University Of California San Diego                    | Predicting changes in the HIV undiagnosed population of people who inject drugs in Miami-Dade county to inform diagnosis interventions: a machine-learning approach | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 25           |
| Grace Greenwood            | Cups Calgary                                          | The importance of integrating STBBI and vaccine services into addictions care: a needs assessment at a local OAT clinic                                             | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 26           |
| Maria Helseth Greve        | Foundation of Franciscan Aid, Nurses On Wheels        | Combining harm reduction and health services to reach marginalized PWID in Oslo, Norway: a mobile outreach model                                                    | Models of Care and Programs             | 27           |
| Thomas Grischott           | University Hospital Zurich, University Of Zurich      | Characteristics and comorbidities of patients on opioid agonist therapy in Switzerland: a descriptive analysis of the nationwide SAMMSU cohort                      | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 28           |
| Lasha Gulbiani             | Health Research Union                                 | Predictors of loss to follow-up for svr assessment after HCV treatment among PWID in Georgia's HCV elimination program                                              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 29           |
| Lasha Gulbiani             | Health Research Union                                 | Clinical characteristics of people with and without a history of injecting drugs in Georgia's national HCV treatment program                                        | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 30           |

Poster Listing - Thursday

| Presenter        | Organisation                                                          | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Kanishk Gupta    | PATH                                                                  | Values and preferences of long-acting depot buprenorphine among people with opioid dependence in Ukraine: results of qualitative data                                                                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 31           |
| Kanishk Gupta    | PATH                                                                  | Assessing markets to develop a market entry strategy for LADB in Imics                                                                                                                                        | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 32           |
| Kanishk Gupta    | PATH                                                                  | Market shaping for new & underused tools for hepatitis & HIV testing and prevention                                                                                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 33           |
| Kanishk Gupta    | PATH                                                                  | Assessing markets to develop a scale-up strategy of LDSS/N in needles and syringes programs in Imics                                                                                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 34           |
| Kiira Gustafson  | PATH                                                                  | Attitude towards low-dead space syringes and needles among people who inject drugs: preliminary experiences from a six-week pilot in Vietnam                                                                  | Social Science & Policy Research        | 35           |
| Adrian Guta      | University Of Windsor                                                 | "I don't care if your toe is falling off, i'm not giving you opioids in here": examining the impact of changing opioid tolerance on the emergency department care for people who use drugs in Ontario, Canada | Social Science & Policy Research        | 36           |
| Esther Han       | Northern Sydney Local Health District                                 | Gp guide to harm minimisation for patients using non-prescribed anabolic-androgenic steroids (aas) and other performance and image enhancing drugs (pieds)                                                    | Models of Care and Programs             | 37           |
| Alannah Hannigan | British Columbia Centre for Excellence in HIV/AIDS                    | Examining the association between preferred mode of unregulated substance use and recent healthcare engagement among a cohort of people who use drugs in Vancouver, Canada                                    | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 38           |
| Louise Hansford  | Hep C U Later (Inclusion MPFT)                                        | Collaborate to eliminate: a scalable multi-agency model to accelerate hepatitis C micro-elimination                                                                                                           | Models of Care and Programs             | 39           |
| Louise Hansford  | Hep C U Later (Inclusion MPFT)                                        | Influences on (re-)engaging with hepatitis C (HCV) healthcare among people with a historic HCV diagnosis: a qualitative study using the theoretical domains framework and the com-b model                     | Social Science & Policy Research        | 40           |
| Brendan Harney   | Centre de recherche du Centre hospitalier de l'Université de Montreal | Injecting and non-injecting substance use and sexualised drug use among people who inject drugs in Montreal, Canada                                                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 41           |
| Brendan Harney   | Centre de recherche du Centre hospitalier de l'Université de Montreal | Bacterial sexually transmissible infection testing and treatment in harm reduction services: a qualitative study of service provider's perspectives                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 42           |
| Farrah Hart      | Greater London Authority                                              | Strengthening synthetic opioid preparedness in london: findings from a multi-agency tabletop exercise                                                                                                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 43           |
| Jennifer Havens  | University Of Kentucky                                                | Reductions in drug use among participants achieving svr in a hepatitis C treatment trial in rural Appalachia                                                                                                  | Models of Care and Programs             | 44           |
| Kanna Hayashi    | Faculty of Health Sciences, Simon Fraser University                   | Forced displacement associated with persistent homelessness among unhoused people who use drugs in Vancouver, Canada                                                                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 45           |

Poster Listing - Thursday

| Presenter               | Organisation                                                   | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                 | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|-------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Katherine Hill          | Yale School Of Public Health                                   | Main(e) ideas: people who use drugs' perspectives on drug checking service implementation in rural america                                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 46           |
| Adam Holland            | University of Bristol                                          | 'Drugs: it's complicated' – co-developing films to reduce stigma towards people who use criminalised drugs                                                  | Models of Care and Programs             | 47           |
| Vivian Hope             | PHI, LJMU                                                      | An examination of the sharing of pipes for crack-cocaine smoking, and the associated demographic and drug use factors in the UK.                            | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 48           |
| Maria Ibegu             | Menzies Institute For Medical Research, University of Tasmania | Incidence of liver cancer and decompensated cirrhosis amongst hepatitis B and c notifications in Tasmania- a data linkage study                             | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 49           |
| Maria Ibegu             | Menzies Institute For Medical Research, University of Tasmania | Urban clustering of hepatitis B but not hepatitis C: a spatial analysis of liver disease outcomes in Tasmania, Australia                                    | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 50           |
| Andrew Ivsins           | University Of British Columbia; BC Centre On Substance Use     | Intersecting systems of surveillance: HIV, drug use, and safer supply in Vancouver, Canada                                                                  | Social Science & Policy Research        | 51           |
| Naveed Janjua           | University Of British Columbia                                 | hepatitis C virus reinfection after successful treatment with direct acting antiviral therapy in real-world setting in Canada                               | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 52           |
| Muskan Jaswal           | B.C. Centre for Excellence in HIV/AIDS                         | Characterizing engagement in harm reduction services among clients recently treated for HCV and vulnerable to reinfection in British Columbia, Canada       | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 53           |
| Marie Jauffret-Roustide | Inserm                                                         | Patterns of police exposure, violence and at-risk practices among people who use drugs in France                                                            | Social Science & Policy Research        | 54           |
| Nimali Jayasuriya       | National STD/AIDS Control Programme                            | Determinants and treatment outcomes of hepatitis c among attendees of the Central sexually transmitted disease (std) clinic, Colombo, Sri Lanka, 2024–2026. | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 55           |
| Leo Jefferys            | European Network of People who Use Drugs (EuroNPUD)            | Peer consultation mechanisms: community-led monitoring through european focal points                                                                        | Social Science & Policy Research        | 56           |
| Maxim Kan               | Karolinska Institute                                           | Needle-syringe coverage and factors associated with needle sharing among clients of the Stockholm needle and syringe program, 2013-2023                     | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 57           |
| Maxim Kan               | Karolinska Institute                                           | Injection risk profiles over time among the Stockholm needle and syringe program participants (2013-2023): a repeated latent class analysis                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 58           |
| Maxim Kan               | Karolinska Institute                                           | Contraceptive and condom use among women from key populations in Myanmar                                                                                    | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 59           |
| Kim Kannussaari         | EHYT Finnish Association for Substance Abuse Prevention        | Nopsa – rapid drug information network                                                                                                                      | Models of Care and Programs             | 60           |

Poster Listing - Thursday

| Presenter            | Organisation                                                               | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                    | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|----------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Maria Lie Karlsen    | Akershus University Hospital                                               | Comparison of capillary self-collection test for hepatitis C; people who inject drugs vs. Nurses                                                                               | Clinical Research                       | 61           |
| Patrick Kelly        | Brown University School Of Public Health                                   | Patient- and clinician-perceived benefits and concerns about the use of artificial intelligence in healthcare settings for people who use drugs                                | Social Science & Policy Research        | 62           |
| Patrick Kelly        | Brown University School Of Public Health                                   | Comfort, convenience, or safety? Intersectional risks and harm reduction practices for methamphetamine use among black sexual- and gender-minoritized persons                  | Social Science & Policy Research        | 63           |
| David Khayat-Rondeau | Centre Hospitalier de l'Université de Montréal                             | Evaluating associations between supervised consumption sites use and skin and soft tissue infections: challenges of using observational data                                   | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 64           |
| Per-Erik Klasa       | Beroendecentrum Stockholm                                                  | Implementation of long-acting injectable buprenorphine in a needle syringe program: a clinical pilot study of ACCESS and retention treatment                                   | Clinical Research                       | 65           |
| Rod Knight           | University Of Montreal                                                     | Poppers policy and science in Canada: synthesizing evidence to inform harm reduction                                                                                           | Social Science & Policy Research        | 66           |
| LIAM Knowles         | The Reconnection Bridge                                                    | Class of 2026: does taking education to people who use drugs, 'where they are at', improve outcomes for employment and housing?                                                | Models of Care and Programs             | 67           |
| LIAM Knowles         | The Reconnection Bridge                                                    | 'Bridging the gaps' how simple interventions, produce maximum support. Improving ACCESS to welfare support, housing, healthcare and bank accounts for people who use drugs.    | Models of Care and Programs             | 68           |
| LIAM Knowles         | The Reconnection Bridge                                                    | 'Nanas in arms': providing sport activities to children in kinship care due to parental substance use. Health improvements for the long term.                                  | Models of Care and Programs             | 69           |
| Ingo Könen           | Abrigado Cnds Asbl                                                         | An integrated infectious disease care framework for people who use drugs: the abrigado model                                                                                   | Models of Care and Programs             | 70           |
| Mo Korchinski        | Unlocking the Gates Services Society                                       | Peer-led hepatitis C pop-up clinics to bridge gaps between incarceration and community in British Columbia, Canada                                                             | Models of Care and Programs             | 71           |
| Igor Kozak           | Charitable Organization "charitable Found Network Of People Who Use Drugs" | Identifying effective data collection tools for community-led monitoring of people who use drugs in Ukraine                                                                    | Models of Care and Programs             | 72           |
| Jade Lane            | Burnet Institute                                                           | "We might be using drugs but that doesn't mean we should be harmed": rethinking risk assessment in domestic, family, and sexual violence for criminalised women who use drugs. | Social Science & Policy Research        | 73           |
| Jade Lane            | Burnet Institute                                                           | Co-designing transformative justice principles for non-carceral domestic, family, and sexual violence prevention with criminalised people who use drugs                        | Social Science & Policy Research        | 74           |
| Sarah Larney         | Burnet Institute                                                           | Chronic pain is associated with non-fatal overdose in people who inject drugs: longitudinal cohort study in Montreal, Canada, 2017–2025                                        | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 75           |

Poster Listing - Thursday

| Presenter            | Organisation                                                                                                   | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                               | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|----------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Sarah Larney         | Burnet Institute                                                                                               | Housing instability and mortality among people who inject drugs: longitudinal cohort study in baltimore, United States, 2005–2020                                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 76           |
| Simon Larsson        | Department of Addiction Disorders, Sahlgrenska University Hospital, Gothenburg, Region Västra Götaland, Sweden | Experiences of ACCESS to substance use services and psychiatric care for people who inject stimulants - a systematic review and Meta synthesis of qualitative studies     | Social Science & Policy Research        | 77           |
| Caroline Leblanc     | Université De Sherbrooke                                                                                       | Amplifying invisibilized voices: participation and social justice in homelessness                                                                                         | Social Science & Policy Research        | 78           |
| Kevin Leyden         | NJCRI (North Jersey Community Research Initiative)                                                             | Past treatment, present cure: comparable hepatitis C outcomes in a community-based program                                                                                | Clinical Research                       | 79           |
| Kevin Leyden         | NJCRI (North Jersey Community Research Initiative)                                                             | Sustained virologic response following short exposure to glecaprevir/pibrentasvir: a real-world case series                                                               | Clinical Research                       | 80           |
| Črt Loboda           | University Medical Centre Ljubljana                                                                            | hepatitis C continuum-of-care in incarcerated persons in Slovenia                                                                                                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 81           |
| Črt Loboda           | University Medical Centre Ljubljana                                                                            | Efficacy of direct-acting antiviral therapy and re-infection rates in people who inject drugs with hepatitis C in Slovenia                                                | Clinical Research                       | 82           |
| Emmett Lockwood      | York University                                                                                                | Beyond consultation: Indigenous – led relational knowledge sharing as hepatitis C resource dissemination                                                                  | Models of Care and Programs             | 83           |
| Renee Logan          | Centre For Addiction And Mental Health                                                                         | Integrating point-of-care hepatitis C screening into outpatient addiction care: a quality improvement study assessing the impact of transitioning to a nurse-led workflow | Models of Care and Programs             | 84           |
| Damali Lucas Kabwali | Tanzania Network for People Who Use Drugs (TaNPUD)                                                             | "Beyond the MAT clinic walls: identifying and overcoming barriers to naloxone uptake in Tanzania."                                                                        | Models of Care and Programs             | 85           |
| Arran Ludlow-Rhodes  | Gilead Sciences                                                                                                | Expanding clinical capabilities in nurse-led provision of hepatitis care in prison settings                                                                               | Models of Care and Programs             | 86           |
| Arran Ludlow-Rhodes  | Gilead Sciences                                                                                                | Impact of cepheid on HCV pathway time in prison settings                                                                                                                  | Models of Care and Programs             | 87           |
| Arran Ludlow-Rhodes  | Gilead Sciences                                                                                                | Through the gate                                                                                                                                                          | Models of Care and Programs             | 88           |
| Arran Ludlow-Rhodes  | Gilead Sciences                                                                                                | Impact of a 7 year elimination programme on HCV diagnosis rates in a london prison                                                                                        | Models of Care and Programs             | 89           |
| Christel Macdonald   | National Drug And Alcohol Research Centre, UNSW                                                                | Epidemiology of injecting drug use, injection related harms and tattooing among people who are incarcerated                                                               | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 90           |

Poster Listing - Thursday

| Presenter            | Organisation                                                                                                         | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                       | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|----------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Emma Markus          | University Of Pittsburgh                                                                                             | Assessing implementation conditions for the expansion of sterile syringe and PrEP prescribing in u.s. Outpatient addiction treatment settings                                                     | Clinical Research                       | 91           |
| Kathleen Marques     | Blood Ties Four Directions                                                                                           | An airway-focused overdose response framework led by non-medical staff in a small Northern supervised consumption site                                                                            | Models of Care and Programs             | 92           |
| Kathleen Marques     | Blood Ties Four Directions                                                                                           | A unique model for indoor inhalation at a supervised consumption site in Northern Canada                                                                                                          | Models of Care and Programs             | 93           |
| Brandon Marshall     | Department of Epidemiology, Brown University School of Public Health, RI, USA                                        | A machine learning-based forecasting tool to predict future overdose deaths: results of the PROVIDENT randomized community intervention trial                                                     | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 94           |
| Pedro Mateu-Gelabert | Cuny Graduate School Of Public Health And Health Policy                                                              | Modeling the public health impacts of enforcement-focused drug policies in Latin America: a system dynamics approach                                                                              | Social Science & Policy Research        | 95           |
| Anna Mättö           | Healthcare Services For Prisoners                                                                                    | Prison by prison- hep-c micro-elimination model in finnish prisons                                                                                                                                | Models of Care and Programs             | 96           |
| Samara Mayer         | University Of Victoria                                                                                               | "It's not always the drugs": social and structural factors that impact wound development among people who use drugs in the context of ongoing drug supply volatility                              | Social Science & Policy Research        | 97           |
| Md Khadimul Mazhar   | University Of Bristol                                                                                                | Impact of violence and stigma on HIV-related outcomes among people who inject drugs: a global systematic review                                                                                   | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 98           |
| Madeline Mccrary     | Washington University School Of Medicine                                                                             | Hospitalization as a “reachable moment:” implementation and comparison of inpatient hepatitis C linkage to care programs in a tertiary care center in the United States                           | Models of Care and Programs             | 99           |
| Claire Mcdonell      | University Of California, San Francisco (UCSF)                                                                       | Longitudinal DAA adherence trajectories and SVR12 among people with a history of injection drug use in a low-barrier community HCV treatment model                                                | Clinical Research                       | 100          |
| Anna Meteliuk        | Alliance For Public Health                                                                                           | Introduction of long-acting depot buprenorphine for people who inject drugs in Egypt                                                                                                              | Models of Care and Programs             | 101          |
| Anna Meteliuk        | Alliance For Public Health                                                                                           | Introducing the model of community-based hepatitis C treatment among people who inject drugs in Kyrgyzstan: patients’ values and preferences                                                      | Models of Care and Programs             | 102          |
| Tamari Mgebrishvili  | Ilia State University                                                                                                | Barriers and facilitators to HIV pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) uptake among key populations in Georgia: a mixed-methods study                                                                   | Social Science & Policy Research        | 103          |
| Kingsley Michael     | National HIV/AIDS, Viral Hepatitis And STIs Control Programme, Federal Ministry of Health And Social Welfare (FMHCW) | Development and early implementation of a low-cost symptom-triggered screening algorithm for hepatitis C reinfection surveillance among clients receiving harm reduction interventions in Nigeria | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 104          |
| Kyle Miller          | Community Care Of West Virginia                                                                                      | Conceptualizing barriers to chronic hepatitis C treatment in rural West Virginia                                                                                                                  | Clinical Research                       | 105          |

Poster Listing - Thursday

| Presenter               | Organisation                                                                       | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                               | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|-------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Sanjana Mitra           | Centre On Drug Policy Evaluation                                                   | Client experiences of prescribed opioid alternatives within a decolonial model of care                                                                                                                    | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 106          |
| Merrin Monteith         | University Of Alberta                                                              | Treatment engagement among people who use drugs in Edmonton, Alberta: patterns, barriers and predictors using the behavioural model for vulnerable populations                                            | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 107          |
| Amanda Moore            | Direction 180                                                                      | ACCESS: advancing hepatitis C care through engagement & screening at a supervised consumption site                                                                                                        | Models of Care and Programs             | 108          |
| Henry Msimango          | The University Of Pretoria                                                         | Towards self-sufficiency in harm reduction: a rapid review to inform guideline development in South Africa                                                                                                | Models of Care and Programs             | 109          |
| Henry Msimango          | The University Of Pretoria                                                         | Self-sufficiency aspirations among people who use substances in a harm reduction programme in Tshwane, South Africa.                                                                                      | Social Science & Policy Research        | 110          |
| Vanessa Msolomba        | Ezintsha                                                                           | A pharmacy based model for integrated HIV, syphilis and hepatitis B screening and linkage to care in South Africa                                                                                         | Models of Care and Programs             | 111          |
| Dorice Mukabana         | Rural Women Action on Street Health Organization (RWASH)                           | Community-based peer support to enhance HIV, hepatitis, and reproductive health services for marginalized women who use drugs in Kakamega, Kenya                                                          | Models of Care and Programs             | 112          |
| Dorice Mukabana         | Rural Women Action on Street Health Organization (RWASH)                           | Peer-led harm reduction outreach improving HIV and hepatitis service ACCESS for women who use drugs in rural Western Kenya                                                                                | Models of Care and Programs             | 113          |
| Suzanne Murphy          | The Hepatitis C Trust                                                              | 'Tuesday at 10'- a nurse and peer, static outreach clinic alongside the Salvation Army breakfast, improving ACCESS to testing, treatment and prevention of hepatitis C (HCV) in the North East of England | Models of Care and Programs             | 114          |
| Georgia Myers           | St Vincent's Hospital Melbourne                                                    | Low threshold community hepatitis C testing improves screening rates among people who no longer inject drugs: results of a mobile nurse and peer-led hepatitis C service in Melbourne, Victoria           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 115          |
| Beginmai Myktarbekova   | Association Partnership Network                                                    | Introducing the model of community-based hepatitis C treatment among people who inject drugs in Kyrgyzstan                                                                                                | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 116          |
| Francisco Javier Nabais | Ministry of Human Development and Habitat - Government of the City of Buenos Aires | Drug use among people experiencing homelessness in the autonomous city of Buenos Aires: the production of care in social inclusion centers.                                                               | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 117          |
| Shivakumar Narayanan    | University of Maryland School of Medicine                                          | A contingency management based program to improve linkage to care and reduce infectious disease risk for patients with opioid use disorder                                                                | Models of Care and Programs             | 118          |
| Nithya Narayanan        | University Of California, San Diego                                                | Validation of a novel scale to measure overdose-fatalism in people who use drugs and associations with adoption of overdose-protective practices                                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 119          |
| Javiera Navarrete       | University of Alberta                                                              | Policy and structural contexts in pharmacy-based harm reduction: a realist evaluation protocol in Alberta, Canada                                                                                         | Social Science & Policy Research        | 120          |

Poster Listing - Thursday

| Presenter         | Organisation             | Paper Title                                                                                                                                | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|-------------------|--------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Kate Newcombe     | CUPS Liver Clinic        | Nurse-pharmacist led outreach for sexually transmitted and blood borne infection care and vaccine ACCESS in a harm reduction housing model | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 121          |
| Suzanne Nielsen   | Monash University        | Rethinking supervision in opioid agonist treatment: aligning evidence, practice and patient centred design                                 | Social Science & Policy Research        | 122          |
| Anthony Nkwocha   | Frontline AIDS           | Building trust through digital monitoring: lessons from the Hep C Innovate, Involve and Inspire Project                                    | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 123          |
| Lorraine O Connor | Cork University Hospital | Screening for hepatitis C in a woman and children's homeless shelter in Cork: outcomes and insights                                        | Models of Care and Programs             | 124          |
| Lorraine O Connor | Cork University Hospital | hepatitis C virus screening in an Irish prison setting                                                                                     | Models of Care and Programs             | 125          |
| Dimitri Semizarov | Abbvie                   | Safety and efficacy of glecaprevir/pibrentasvir for 8 weeks for treatment of acute hepatitis C virus infection in people living with HIV   | Clinical Research                       | 126          |
| Margaret Shang    | University of Pittsburgh | Woundwell: a low-barrier, patient-centered initiative for xylazine-associated wounds                                                       | Models of Care and Programs             | 127          |
| Claudia Winet     | Sune-egge On The Road    | Sune-egge on the road: providing low threshold medical care on the streets of Zurich                                                       | Models of Care and Programs             | 128          |

Poster Listing - Friday

| Presenter                  | Organisation                                    | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                            | Theme                                   | Poster Board |               |
|----------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|---------------|
| Annick Borquez             | University of California San Diego              | Drug-using social networks and professional help-seeking among people who inject drugs in the San Diego–Tijuana border region                                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 1            |               |
| Hrafnhildur Kjartansdottir | Landspítali                                     | High rates of hepatitis C viral clearance using a nurse-led model of care providing community-based HCV testing and treatment through hospital outreach services in reykjavik, Iceland | Models of Care and Programs             | 2            |               |
| Antons Mozalevskis         | WHO Headquarters                                | Health and economic impact of quadplex HIV-syphilis-HBV-HCV testing among key populations in South Africa                                                                              | Clinical Research                       | 3            |               |
| Joshua Dawe                | University of Bristol                           | Trends in hepatitis C and HIV prevalence and incidence among people who inject drugs accessing a harm reduction service in Bucharest, Romania, 2013–2022                               | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 4            | Poster Tour 4 |
| Thileepan Naren            | Western Health                                  | A telehealth model delivering opioid agonist therapy in regional communities                                                                                                           | Models of Care and Programs             | 5            |               |
| Comfort Ochigbo            | Institute Of Human Virology Nigeria             | Age and sex differences in needle and syringe program uptake among people who inject drugs in Nigeria: program data from four states                                                   | Models of Care and Programs             | 6            |               |
| Amelia Andrews             | UK Health Security Agency                       | Combining biological markers of recent hepatitis C virus infection to estimate incidence among people who inject drugs                                                                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 7            | Poster Tour 4 |
| Comfort Ochigbo            | Institute Of Human Virology Nigeria             | Comparative analysis of hepatitis B and c positivity among people who inject drugs in the general population and a MAT center in Gombe State, Nigeria                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 8            |               |
| Comfort Ochigbo            | Institute Of Human Virology Nigeria             | Implementing needle and syringe programs for people who use drugs in Northern Nigeria: opportunities and challenges.                                                                   | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 9            |               |
| Comfort Ochigbo            | Institute Of Human Virology Nigeria             | Client characteristics and uptake of medication-assisted treatment services for opioid use disorder in Nigeria                                                                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 10           |               |
| Molly Ogbodum              | Students for Sensible Drug Policy International | Forced migration and hepatitis C vulnerability among young people who use drugs (YPWUDs) in Africa: a review of evidences                                                              | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 11           |               |
| Molly Ogbodum              | Students for Sensible Drug Policy International | Integrating HCV/HIV services in correctional settings for incarcerated women who use drugs in sub-Saharan Africa                                                                       | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 12           |               |
| Molly Ogbodum              | Students for Sensible Drug Policy International | hepatitis B vaccination for people who use drugs: ACCESS, challenges, financing gaps and implementation opportunities for Nigeria                                                      | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 13           |               |
| Lily Ostrer                | UC San Diego                                    | Impact of long-acting injectable antiretroviral therapy among people who inject drugs in India: a dynamic transmission model                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 14           | Poster Tour 4 |
| Solomon Ogwuche            | Education as Vaccine                            | Reducing costs, expanding ACCESS: cross-sector partnerships for duty-free procurement in Nigeria’s hepatitis C response                                                                | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 15           |               |

Poster Listing - Friday

| Presenter        | Organisation                                                       | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                 | Theme                                   | Poster Board |               |
|------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|---------------|
| Joss O'Loan      | Kombi Clinic                                                       | Pharmacist-integrated hepatitis C treatment delivery in marginalised communities: expanding the kombi clinic model                                          | Models of Care and Programs             | 16           |               |
| Eirik Opheim     | Agency For Social And Welfare Services, City Of Oslo, Norway       | hepatitis C treatment uptake among incarcerated people                                                                                                      | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 17           |               |
| Eirik Opheim     | Agency For Social And Welfare Services, City Of Oslo, Norway       | Trends in blood-borne viral infections, HBV vaccination coverage and risk behaviour among people with recent injecting drug use in Oslo, 2002-2024          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 18           |               |
| Molly Paras      | Massachusetts General Hospital/harvard Medical School              | Dental health and connection to dental care among patients with infective endocarditis and history of injection drug use                                    | Clinical Research                       | 19           |               |
| Tiffany Pe       | Barwon South West Public Health Unit                               | Nurse-led hepatitis C RNA point-of-care testing and financial incentives in community settings in regional Victoria, Australia: an implementation study     | Models of Care and Programs             | 20           |               |
| Thabiso Phakathi | ANOVA                                                              | The impact of crystal methamphetamine use on methadone treatment outcomes and continued injecting behavior among people who inject drugs in South Africa    | Models of Care and Programs             | 21           |               |
| Thabiso Phakathi | ANOVA                                                              | Achievements and experiences of people who use drugs community members through the South african UNITAID community advisory board                           | Models of Care and Programs             | 22           |               |
| Louisa Picco     | Monash University                                                  | Australian community pharmacists' comfort, attitudes, beliefs about needle and syringe programs and correlates of provision: findings from a national study | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 23           |               |
| Chelsea Pickett  | Cuny Graduate School Of Public Health And Health Policy            | Structural misalignment in opioid settlement funding: a case study from New York State                                                                      | Social Science & Policy Research        | 24           |               |
| Joana Pires      | NOVA National School Of Public Health, Universidade Nova De Lisboa | Longitudinal patterns of engagement with an integrated drug consumption room in Lisbon, 2021-2025                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 25           |               |
| Sarah Pollock    | Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School Of Public Health                    | Community and correctional partnerships for MOUD linkage to care                                                                                            | Social Science & Policy Research        | 26           | Poster Tour 5 |
| Michelle Pittman | RECAP Health Services & Horizon Health                             | Strengthening Indigenous health through community-led STBBI testing in New Brunswick, Canada                                                                | Models of Care and Programs             | 27           |               |
| Michelle Pittman | RECAP Health Services & Horizon Health                             | Bringing care home: building a closed-loop HCV Cascade within an Indigenous harm reduction program in New Brunswick, Canada                                 | Models of Care and Programs             | 28           |               |
| Michelle Pittman | RECAP Health Services & Horizon Health                             | Test, treat, eliminate: point-of-care HCV RNA testing in fredericton, New Brunswick, Canada                                                                 | Models of Care and Programs             | 29           |               |
| Nevena Rebić     | Unity Health Toronto                                               | Perinatal use of opioid agonist therapy in Ontario, Canada: a population-based cohort study of trends over a 12-year period                                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 30           | Poster Tour 5 |

Poster Listing - Friday

| Presenter               | Organisation                                            | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                    | Theme                                   | Poster Board |               |
|-------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|---------------|
| Lucy Platt              | London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine          | Reducing health risk practices and increasing service engagement: findings from a impact and process evaluation of a safer crack inhalation intervention in England.                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 31           |               |
| Lucy Platt              | London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine          | Effectiveness of a safe inhalation pipe provision intervention on health risk practices and service engagement among people who use crack in England: findings from a quasi-experimental study | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 32           |               |
| JULIETTE PONT           | SOS Hépatites Bourgogne Franche-Comté                   | Target smarter, screen better : an all terrain approach to hepatitis and liver disease screening                                                                                               | Models of Care and Programs             | 33           |               |
| Catherine Chappell      | University Of Pittsburgh                                | Monthly extended-release buprenorphine use in pregnancy                                                                                                                                        | Clinical Research                       | 34           | Poster Tour 5 |
| Chenai Kitchen          | British Columbia Centre On Substance Use                | Cannabis use and illicit opioid cessation among people who use drugs living with chronic pain                                                                                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 35           | Poster Tour 5 |
| SUSAN RAMSEY            | Brown University Medical School/Brown University Health | Development of a scalable digital platform to serve as an adjunct to medication for opioid use disorder                                                                                        | Clinical Research                       | 36           |               |
| Tiffany Randall         | University of Arizona, College of Public Health         | Scaling compassion: a multi-tiered approach to harm reduction training for future clinicians and community partners                                                                            | Models of Care and Programs             | 37           |               |
| Marc-Alain Raymond      | Université De Montréal                                  | Predictors of hospitalizations among people who inject drugs consulting at emergency department for skin and soft tissue infections                                                            | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 38           |               |
| Nevena Rebić            | Unity Health Toronto                                    | Treatment outcomes after initiating methadone and buprenorphine for opioid use disorder among First Nation peoples in Ontario, Canada: a population-based cohort study                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 39           |               |
| Stephany Reed-Perkins   | The Hepatitis C Trust                                   | Every dose counts: dosette boxes improving hepatitis C treatment adherence among people experiencing homelessness and other marginalised groups                                                | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 40           |               |
| AmandaLynn Reese        | Harm Reduction Ohio                                     | Resilience in the margins: building rural HIV and hepatitis C testing infrastructure through harm reduction partnerships                                                                       | Models of Care and Programs             | 41           |               |
| Juan Reyes              | University Of Puerto Rico                               | Re-emerging of xylazine use and its association with nonfatal drug overdose among drug injectors in Puerto Rico                                                                                | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 42           |               |
| Phillip Rideoutt        | NASTAD                                                  | Engaging leaders with lived experience as subject matter experts to mobilize viral hepatitis and harm reduction community advocacy                                                             | Models of Care and Programs             | 43           |               |
| Daniella Silva Oliveira | Secretaria de Saúde do Rio de Janeiro                   | Policy overview: seguir em frente – a municipal strategy for social inclusion and healthcare ACCESS for people experiencing homelessness in Rio de Janeiro                                     | Social Science & Policy Research        | 44           | Poster Tour 6 |
| Holly Mathias           | University Of Alberta                                   | The critical role of family caregivers in supporting the health of rural people who use drugs                                                                                                  | Social Science & Policy Research        | 45           | Poster Tour 6 |

Poster Listing - Friday

| Presenter               | Organisation                                                            | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Theme                                   | Poster Board |                      |
|-------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|----------------------|
| Emma Rodríguez          | Latinoamérica Por Una Política Sensata De Drogas (LPSD)                 | Body mapping and participatory drug education as a harm reduction intervention with incarcerated women in Mexico                                                                                                | Models of Care and Programs             | 46           |                      |
| Joseph Gregory Rosen    | Brown University Warren Alpert Medical School                           | Opioid agonist therapy readiness and HIV care outcomes among female sex workers living with HIV in South Africa                                                                                                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 47           |                      |
| Joseph Gregory Rosen    | Brown University Warren Alpert Medical School                           | A network approach to identifying substance use severity patterns and their relationship with ART discontinuity and nonfatal overdose among female sex workers living with HIV in South Africa                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 48           |                      |
| Joseph Gregory Rosen    | Brown University Warren Alpert Medical School                           | Preferences for low-barrier, decentralized methadone service delivery features among female sex workers living with HIV in South Africa: a discrete choice experiment                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 49           |                      |
| Amanda Roxburgh         | Burnet Institute                                                        | Outrage and algorithms: shifting drug-related stigma in a digital world                                                                                                                                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 50           |                      |
| Amanda Roxburgh         | Burnet Institute                                                        | The impact of regulatory changes to pharmaceutical opioid prescribing on opioid mortality in Australia                                                                                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 51           |                      |
| Thomas Rudge            | Unsw/ Kirby Institute                                                   | Implementing a national program to scale-up decentralised hepatitis C point-of-care testing in Australia: a multilevel qualitative evaluation using AI-based natural language processing and sentiment analysis | Social Science & Policy Research        | 52           |                      |
| Camille Sabella-garnier | UdeS                                                                    | Work as harm reduction (HR): a transferable low-threshold model of care from tapaj France to tapaj Quebec                                                                                                       | Models of Care and Programs             | 53           |                      |
| Buhari Isumafe          | SFH Nigeria                                                             | Optimising harm reduction effectiveness through low dead space syringe and needle distribution: lessons from a mixed-methods pilot in Oyo state, Nigeria                                                        | Models of Care and Programs             | 54           | Poster Tour 4 |
| Aïssata Sako            | CRCHUM   CHUM                                                           | Co-constructing tele-addiction services (CATS) in First Nations and Inuit communities: embedding relational and structural realities into care delivery                                                         | Models of Care and Programs             | 55           |                      |
| Aïssata Sako            | CRCHUM   CHUM                                                           | From implementation to scale-up: lessons from listuguj First Nation on integrated telehealth addiction services                                                                                                 | Models of Care and Programs             | 56           |                      |
| Kate Salters            | BC Centre for Excellence in HIV/AIDS                                    | Characterizing uptake and satisfaction with pharmacotherapies for opioid use disorder among a cohort of clients of a supervised consumption site in Vancouver, Canada                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 57           |                      |
| Kate Salters            | BC Centre for Excellence in HIV/AIDS                                    | Awareness of and willingness to take PrEP among a cohort of people who use drugs in Vancouver, Canada                                                                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 58           |                      |
| Elizabeth Samuels       | Department Of Emergency Medicine, University Of California, Los Angeles | A narrative review of emergency department HIV pre-exposure prophylaxis: feasibility, attitudes, and implementation barriers                                                                                    | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 59           |                      |
| Knarik Sargsyan         | National Center for Infectious Diseases (NCID)                          | Same-day test and treat model on hepatitis C care using antibody test for people who inject drugs: findings from Armenia within the cutts HepC project                                                          | Models of Care and Programs             | 60           |                      |

Poster Listing - Friday

| Presenter              | Organisation                                     | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                       | Theme                                   | Poster Board |               |
|------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|---------------|
| Andrew Scheibe         | TB HIV Care                                      | Stakeholder perspectives on the feasibility and acceptability of drug checking in South Africa: qualitative insights                                                              | Models of Care and Programs             | 61           |               |
| Andrew Scheibe         | TB HIV Care                                      | Cost analysis of opioid agonist therapy as an integrated primary health care intervention in South Africa                                                                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 62           |               |
| Andrew Scheibe         | TB HIV Care                                      | Injecting practices, criminalisation, and stigma among clients of a community-based needle and syringe programme in Tshwane, South Africa: a cross-sectional survey (2025)        | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 63           |               |
| Mohammad Karamouzian   | University of Toronto                            | Methamphetamine use and associated factors among people who inject drugs in Iran                                                                                                  | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 64           | Poster Tour 6 |
| Belinda Njiro          | University of bristol                            | Estimating the burden of multiple structural risk factors among people who inject drugs using key population surveys in sub-Saharan Africa                                        | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 65           | Poster Tour 6 |
| Katrin Schiffer        | Correlation-European Harm Reduction Network      | Gateways and gatekeepers: harm reduction, stigma and hepatitis C care for people who use drugs in Europe                                                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 66           |               |
| Kristin Schneider      | Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health  | Wound experiences of rural people who inject drugs during an HIV and hepatitis C syndemic in West Virginia, United States                                                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 67           |               |
| Sophia Schroeder       | Burnet Institute                                 | Collaboration trust and support: the essential role of community in hepatitis C care for people who inject drugs in Armenia                                                       | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 68           |               |
| Sophia Schroeder       | Burnet Institute                                 | Presence, absence, and contingent engagement: mobilising care at the limits of hepatitis C elimination                                                                            | Social Science & Policy Research        | 69           |               |
| Tanja Schwarz          | Austrian National Public Health Institute (GOEG) | Mortality and causes of death among individuals in a national opioid agonist treatment cohort in Austria                                                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 70           |               |
| Phoebe Seaver          | University of California San Diego               | Modeling the impact of supervised consumption site provision on overdose mortality among people who inject drugs (PWID) in Montreal                                               | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 71           |               |
| Nadiia Semchuk         | Alliance for Public Health                       | HCV knowledge gaps by HCV status awareness and testing behavior among people who inject drugs in Kyrgyzstan, Nigeria and Egypt                                                    | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 72           |               |
| Leah Shaw              | Brown University School Of Public Health         | Understanding connectedness: patterns of safety, belonging, and community among clients utilizing the first publicly recognized overdose prevention centers in the United States. | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 73           |               |
| Mariam Sherozia        | Iliia State University                           | A pre-implementation study of HIV self-testing among people who inject drugs in Georgia                                                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 74           |               |
| Chelsea Shover-Darling | University Of California Los Angeles             | Bringing hepatitis C treatment into the community to reach people who use drugs in Bristol, u.K.                                                                                  | Models of Care and Programs             | 75           |               |

Poster Listing - Friday

| Presenter               | Organisation                                                                                    | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                       | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|-------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Khanyisile T. Sibiya    | ANOVA                                                                                           | Early evidence on the uptake and safety of long-acting depot buprenorphine and infectious disease treatment initiation as part of opioid agonist therapy in South Africa          | Clinical Research                       | 76           |
| Daniella Silva Oliveira | Secretaria de Saúde do Rio de Janeiro                                                           | Ponto de apoio na rua: a low-threshold care model for people experiencing homelessness                                                                                            | Social Science & Policy Research        | 77           |
| K. Marie Sizemore       | Dept. Of Psychiatry, Rutgers University                                                         | Acceptability and feasibility outcomes from a factorial optimization trial of a just-in-time adaptive intervention to reduce substance use in sexual minority men living with HIV | Clinical Research                       | 78           |
| Katerina Skarupova      | European Union Drugs Agency                                                                     | Injecting drug use: what are EU data telling US about prevalence and polysubstance use                                                                                            | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 79           |
| Stuart Smith            | The Hepatitis C Trust                                                                           | From harm reduction to liver care: peer support improves engagement in HCC surveillance among underserved patients                                                                | Models of Care and Programs             | 80           |
| Stuart Smith            | The Hepatitis C Trust                                                                           | A national peer-led behavioural surveillance system to inform harm reduction commissioning and sustain hepatitis C elimination in England                                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 81           |
| Gisela Macphail         | CUPS Liver Clinic                                                                               | Sociodemographic characteristics and hepatitis C treatment outcomes among Canadian immigrants: a canuch cohort analysis.                                                          | Clinical Research                       | 82           |
| Amanda Somana           | ANOVA                                                                                           | Community-led research evaluating long-acting depot buprenorphine values and preferences among people who use drugs in Johannesburg, South Africa.                                | Social Science & Policy Research        | 83           |
| Kelsey Speed            | University Of British Columbia                                                                  | Longitudinal changes in routes of administration of unregulated opioids among people with histories of injection drug use in Vancouver, Canada, 2012-2024                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 84           |
| Ida Sperle-Heupel       | Robert Koch Institute                                                                           | hepatitis C prevalence and gaps in testing and treatment in one German prison– results from the DRUCK-Haft pilot study, may – june 2025                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 85           |
| Oksana Stanevich        | Ariel University                                                                                | Migration, injecting drug use and HIV-1 subtype A6: phylogeographic insights to inform cross-border care for post-soviet migrants                                                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 86           |
| Yanina Stemkovska       | CO “Eastern Resource Center Of The Ukrainian Network Of People Who Use Drugs (volna) ”meridian" | Main results of the project on social support and involvement in HIV prevention programs in difficult war conditions for people who use drugs.                                    | Models of Care and Programs             | 87           |
| Ashleigh Stewart        | Burnet Institute                                                                                | Supervised injecting room use and mental health contacts: findings from the SuperMIX cohort                                                                                       | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 88           |
| Ashleigh Stewart        | Burnet Institute                                                                                | The impact of Melbourne's supervised injecting facility on general and drug-related public amenity                                                                                | Social Science & Policy Research        | 89           |
| Ashleigh Stewart        | Burnet Institute                                                                                | Negotiating urban space: residents' experiences of a supervised injecting facility                                                                                                | Social Science & Policy Research        | 90           |

Poster Listing - Friday

| Presenter             | Organisation                                                                            | Paper Title                                                                                                                                               | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|-----------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Jack Stone            | University Of Bristol                                                                   | Modelling the high levels of HIV and HCV transmission among people who inject drugs in South Africa - the need for urgent intervention scale up           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 91           |
| Mark Stoové           | Burnet Institute                                                                        | The clinical effectiveness of nurse-led and peer-partnership outreach models of hepatitis C care: a systematic review and Meta-analysis                   | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 92           |
| Signe Freja Storgaard | Odense University Hospital                                                              | National register-based micro—elimination of undiagnosed HCV among people of high risk in Denmark                                                         | Clinical Research                       | 93           |
| Aibar Sultangaziev    | Association Partnership Network                                                         | Ensuring diagnosis and treatment of hepatitis C in prisons and community-based continuity of care for released prisoners in Kyrgyzstan                    | Models of Care and Programs             | 94           |
| julian surey          | UCLH NHS Trust / University College London                                              | Peer-led needle and syringe programme delivery as a platform for harm reduction and blood-borne virus prevention among people who use drugs in london     | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 95           |
| Lauren Sutherland     | University of Pittsburgh Department of Obstetrics, Gynecology and Reproductive Sciences | Distribution of harm reduction kits to pregnant and postpartum individuals on an inpatient service                                                        | Clinical Research                       | 96           |
| Nomili Svensson       | Sprututbytet, Beroendecentrum                                                           | "This false sense of security": a qualitative study of women's injecting practices and circumstances in Stockholm, Sweden                                 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 97           |
| Godfrey Swai          | Methadone Family Against Drug Abuse (mefada)                                            | Strengthening overdose response among people who inject drugs in kinondoni, Dar es Salaam, Tanzania: community—clinical linkage model."                   | Models of Care and Programs             | 98           |
| Tuukka Tammi          | Finnish Institute for Health and Welfare (THL)                                          | How far can we go with the money? A qualitative inquiry into structural and relational barriers to HCV elimination                                        | Social Science & Policy Research        | 99           |
| Kirsten Trayner       | Glasgow Caledonian University                                                           | Evaluating the impact of the UK's first sanctioned safer drug consumption facility (ENACT) on injecting-related litter in Glasgow                         | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 100          |
| Katja Troberg         | Lund university & Region Skåne                                                          | Overdose engagement, gendered conditions and perspectives among supersavers - a qualitative study, South Sweden                                           | Clinical Research                       | 101          |
| Katja Troberg         | Lund university & Region Skåne                                                          | The RESPONDER trial - a feasibility study of a model deploying community first responders to administer intranasal naloxone in potential opioid overdoses | Clinical Research                       | 102          |
| Tasha Turner-Bicknell | University Of Cincinnati College of Nursing, Harm Reduction Ohio                        | Decreasing barriers and improving ACCESS for priority populations: rapid hep c and HIV testing at a music festival in rural Appalachia                    | Models of Care and Programs             | 103          |
| Xenia Umanzor         | Emory University Hospital                                                               | Early implementation of routine HIV and HCV screening for aging adults in an urban emergency department                                                   | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 104          |
| Aizada Usenakunova    | Ministry of Health Republic of Kyrgyzstan                                               | Introduction of long-acting depot buprenorphine for people who inject drugs in Kyrgyzstan                                                                 | Models of Care and Programs             | 105          |

Poster Listing - Friday

| Presenter                       | Organisation                                                          | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|---------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Heather Valerio                 | The Kirby Institute, UNSW Sydney                                      | Reductions in prevalence of advanced liver fibrosis among people who inject drugs in the direct-acting antiviral era: the ETHOS Engage Study                                                                       | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 106          |
| Heather Valerio                 | The Kirby Institute, UNSW Sydney                                      | Prevalence of current HCV infection, prior treatment uptake, and advanced fibrosis among people who inject drugs: the ETHOS Engage Study                                                                           | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 107          |
| Rachel Vickers                  | University Of Kentucky                                                | A community-to-bench translational model using drug supply epidemiology and lived experience to inform preclinical research                                                                                        | Models of Care and Programs             | 108          |
| Jemarr Walker & Victoria Sutera | Black Lives Matter Paterson                                           | Justice is the intervention: redesigning harm reduction within black communities                                                                                                                                   | Models of Care and Programs             | 109          |
| Galya Walt                      | Brown University School Of Public Health                              | "People don't want to just go out and kill people": a mixed methods study of the perceptions of drug checking among incarcerated people who distribute drugs                                                       | Social Science & Policy Research        | 110          |
| Suzan Walters                   | Nyu Grossman School Of Medicine                                       | Perceived barriers to using the United States' first overdose prevention site: a qualitative study                                                                                                                 | Social Science & Policy Research        | 111          |
| Oliver Wehrli                   | Arud Centre For Addiction Medicine                                    | Cold inhalation of cocaine                                                                                                                                                                                         | Models of Care and Programs             | 112          |
| Darby Whittaker                 | Dalla Lana School Of Public Health, University Of Toronto             | Outpaced by toxicity: women who use drugs, risk environments, overdose prevention, and the limits of individual strategies in Canada's unregulated drug supply                                                     | Social Science & Policy Research        | 113          |
| Max Wilkinson                   | Glasgow Caledonian University                                         | Change in hepatitis C testing and treatment among people admitted to prison in Scotland pre and post introduction of direct-acting antivirals: national linked cohort study                                        | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 114          |
| William WL Wong                 | University Of Waterloo                                                | Test, treat, and prevent: the population-level impact and cost-effectiveness of HCV interventions in prisons                                                                                                       | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 115          |
| Ching-Tse Wu                    | National Health Research Institutes, Taiwan                           | Challenges in linkage to HCV care among patients with opioid use disorder in buprenorphine/naloxone treatment clinics in Taiwan                                                                                    | Clinical Research                       | 116          |
| Ioannis Xynotroulas             | Genelal Hospital Of Lamia                                             | Prisons in Central Greece, have proven to be ideal settings for detecting HCV infection through early screening and the availability of DAA treatments.                                                            | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 117          |
| Yanchenthung Yanthan            | PATH                                                                  | Community led elimination approach for replication: a hepatitis-c intervention among people who inject drugs from North-East India                                                                                 | Social Science & Policy Research        | 118          |
| Karolina Zakrzewska             | National Institute of Public Health NIH – National Research Institute | Substantial decline in estimated anti-HCV prevalence among people who inject drugs after adjustment for sample composition: evidence from four respondent-driven sampling surveys (2009, 2017, 2021, 2025), Poland | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 119          |
| Karolina Zakrzewska             | National Institute of Public Health NIH – National Research Institute | A 33.7-Percentage-point decline in estimated anti-HCV seroprevalence with stable HBsAg prevalence among people who inject drugs: findings from four Polish RDS biobehavioural survey (2009, 2017, 2021, 2025)      | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 120          |

Poster Listing - Friday

| Presenter              | Organisation           | Paper Title                                                                                                                                                                         | Theme                                   | Poster Board |
|------------------------|------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--------------|
| Ruth Zimmermann        | Robert Koch Institute  | High hepatitis C prevalence and multiple vulnerabilities among women who inject drugs in Germany indicate the need for integrated services                                          | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 121          |
| Ruth Zimmermann        | Robert Koch Institute  | No one is hard to reach: implementing a repeatable data collection for viral hepatitis and HIV among people who inject drugs. Insights from Germany's DRUCK-SURV project, 2024-2026 | Epidemiology and Public Health Research | 122          |
| Elizabeth Znamierowski | Yale Internal Medicine | Implementation facilitators of a community-based hepatitis C test-to-treat model using Xpert® HCV RNA testing                                                                       | Social Science & Policy Research        | 123          |